Witness Confesses He Helped To Whip Dr. Dowling

CHARLEY TISON ON STAND SWEARS HE WAS ONE OF MOB

Describes In Detail The Movements Of Gang
At Time Of Attack

NAMES OTHERS
IN THE 'PARTY'

Alleged Motive For A Whipping Brought Out By the State

(Associated Press.)

Birmingham, May 29.—Charley (Bo) Tison today declared on the witness stand in the trial of G. G. Jacks, who with eight other men is charged with flogging Dr. J. G. Dowling, health officer on May 17, last year, that he participated in the whipping of the officer, applying two licks which he described as "light."

The witness said the defendant was a member of the whipping gang and he named several men in the mob, all of whom are now under indictment.

Tison described in detail the movement of the whipping party, the manner of enticing Dr. Dowling from his home and the application of the lash. The witness testified that one section of the gang left Jacks' residence and drove to a designated point where another party joined them first.

The gang then proceeded to the Dowling home in two automobiles. Tison said the health officer was given "an unmerciful whipping," being tied to a tree.

"They laid it on," continued the witness, "Jacks and others hit him," the witness said.

Tison said he was one of the last to strike the officer.

After the whipping the health officer was left in the woods several miles from Birmingham. The automobiles separated and their occupants were driven to their several sections of the community, the witness said.

Tison testified he was an employee of a dairy at the time of the flogging. Attorneys for the defense led the witness through a maze of detailed questioning. In the main the cross examination was finished with Tison adhering to principle points in his original statements made on direct examination. The defense brought out admission that Tison had held many jobs lately. His memory was at fault when several questions were asked.

In an apparent effort to establish a motive for the flogging of the health officer, an attache of the health department of Birmingham testified that he suspended the dairy permit of the defendant for 24 hours because of failure to comply with city laws. This witness, H. E. Perkins, explained that the milk from Jacks' dairy "failed to qualify." He served a written notice from Dr. Dowling on Jacks, he testified. This notice was to the effect that Jacks' milk was below the standard and that he was suspended until requirements were met.

FIVE MEN KILLED
IN PLANT EXPLOSION

(Associated Press.)

Fayetteville, May 29.—Five men were killed and three injured in an explosion at the Hercules Powder company here today. The explosion was in a gelatin packing plant in which the five men were working. The cause has not been determined. The packing plant was destroyed, but only one other of the numerous buildings of the plant were damaged.

It was the gelatin mixing plant which was rocked by the explosion. The total property loss was estimated at $8,000.

WHO WILL BE NEXT FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMPION?

Eugene Criqui, featherweight champion of France and one of the cleverest little men in the ring, will meet the ageing Johnny Kilbane of Ohio, world's featherweight champion, for the championship in a 15-round decision bout to be fought at the Polo Grounds, New York City, on the afternoon of June 2. Johnny Dundee has posted $10,000 to bind a match with the winner.

PUNISHED 'SHNEK'
HAS DISAPPEARED

(Associated Press.)

Des Moines, Iowa, May 29.—Gordon W. Holler's "way with woman," which led to his being given a coat of molasses and feathers by fellow students at Des Moines University Saturday morning, has come to the attention of Miss Ruth D. Pope, dean of women, who declared today the freshman had been denied the society of co-eds under her care.

"I have told him, Dean Pope, said, 'that until he had proven the falsity of rumors about himself I would not permit him to enter the girl's dormitory.'"

Holler could not be found on the campus today.

It was reported he had returned to his home at Omaha.

Shortly before his disappearance Holler withdrew his charges against Clifton and Harold Eaton, who he said were members of the hazing party.

No action is to be taken against the student involved in the hazing, according to Dr. Osborn, chancellor of the University.

The stone will be presented by the President of the present senior class and it will be accepted by B. L. Malone, chairman of the board of education.

MY VACATION

WHERE, WHEN, AND HOW

"I don't know exactly when I will get a vacation, if I am able to get away at any time during the summer," said Hoyt Adams, popular employee of the Albany Drug company. "If I can I would like to go to Tennessee, Shelbyville section, to attend a family reunion."

"Of course I am going to attend the state reunion of veterans in Huntsville this fall, if I am physically able," declared "Uncle Joe" Robertson, oldest resident of the Twin Cities. "That will be vacation enough for me, if I can get among my old comrades again."

WHEELER IS URGED FOR HALL OF FAME

Petition to have the Alabama legislature place a statue of General Joe Wheeler in the national hall of fame, are being circulated over the state now, says The Florence Daily News, which points out that although General Wheeler was not a native Alabamian, he spent most of his life, in this state. The paper continues:

General Wheeler was not an Alabamian by birth, having been born in Augusta, Ga., but the greater part of his boyhood and all of his later life was spent in this state. He graduated from West Point in 1858 and at the opening of the Civil War resigned from the Union Army to act as lieutenant of artillery in the Confederate army. His remarkable bravery won him promotion after promotion until at the close of the war he held the rank of Brigadier General and was in command of the Cavalry Corps of the Army of the West.

From 1861 until 1898 General Wheeler served in the United States Congress as Representative from Alabama, but at the opening of the Spanish-American War immediately joined the army again. He served with distinction in the cavalry in the Philippine Islands. In the course of the two wars in which he took active part General Wheeler was wounded three times and had 16 horses shot from under him. He died in 1906.

Following is the copy of the petition to be presented to the legislature:

We, the undersigned, earnestly petition the Legislature of the State of Alabama, to place in the Hall of Fame, in the Capitol at Washington, the statue of General Joseph Wheeler, "Fighting Joe," the hero of two wars.

Who by his faithful service as a soldier and a statesman and a Christian gentleman, has enriched the records of the state and enshrined him self in the hearts of his countrymen.

We feel that the state in honoring him, honors herself. Alabama has many sons of whom she can be justly proud, but no other so highly distinguished in so many different fields of endeavor.

His name and fame live and are loved in every country where noble deeds are honored among men.

FINDS CORNERSTONE
FOLLOWING DREAMS

Treasures of Old Are Yielded By Stone At Old Bismark Hotel

ANCIENT PAPER
IS AMONG RELICS

Vials Show What Good Liquor Was About the Year 1884

The cornerstone of old Bismark, later the Wilson hotel, which was destroyed by fire recently revealed a number of objects of curiosity, including a newspaper of the date of July 4, 1884 and a vial of whiskey and another of wine. The contents of the latter, however, had evaporated, it is supposed, from the heat of the fire which destroyed the building.

The cornerstone also contained a quart bottle filled with old papers and a number of coins of ancient date. The writing on the papers was hardly legible, but contained many names of prominent residents of that time.

The newspaper found in the stone was a copy of The Decatur News, of that time edited by L. Hensley Grubb and contained column after column of news of this section and of the activities of congress and of the political thought of this state.

Aroused by Dreams
Fifteen slumbers interspersed with dreams and thoughts, according to J. H. Ables, brought to him a sense of the need of an examination of the cornerstone of the old Bismark Hotel—this sense of a need of action came to Mr. Ables about 2 o'clock Monday morning while he was in his "sky parlor" at the Lyons Hotel. So when it was fully day the dreamer arose and repaired to the fallen ruins, and the ashes of the old Bismark in recent years the "Hotel Wilson"—which was burned to the ground not many days ago.

Mr. Ables' memory told him on the eventful morning of May 21, 1923 of another eventful morning in 1884, when as a little boy, he had stood around while his uncle, Major C. H. Ables, and others had put things into the ancient cornerstone of the to be new Hotel Bismark, about to be built to take care of the growing business of Mr. Ables.

And Mr. Ables' judgment told him Monday morning that he ought to see what those "things" were which had been deposited in the ancient corner stone.

Mr. Ables took a pick, and silent and alone, dug into the ashes around about the corner stone, and removed seal until he could break the ancient seal separating him from the hidden treasure. Most of the "good liquor" was gone, the bottles having broken under the spell of the fervent heat that destroyed the hotel. The broken bottles showed there should have been one bottle of beer, two bottles of wine, and one quart bottle of scotch whiskey.

Two smaller flasks were found one small flask the flat kind of flask used in the early days—with a little liquor in it. But the liquors found were unfit for human use—even for medicinal purposes.

A Human Record
The "human documents" found with in the cornerstone more than repaired the efforts of J. H. Ables, who is a nephew of the Major Ables, whose name heads the list of those who in a way immortalized themselves by placing their names on the enclosed "parchments."

The name of Major Ables appears first, as the proprietor of the ancient hbitery. The late C. Edward Ables, his son, appears next; then O. E. Wiggers then E. A. Ables, the father of J. H. Ables, who now lives in West Albany.

POISON PLOT PROBE

Mrs. Emma Copple To Be Given Hearing At Lansing, Mich.

SEEK SOLUTION OF NINE DEATHS

Boarder At The Copple Home Also Held By Authorities

(Associated Press.)

Lansing, Mich., May 29.—Mrs. Emma Copple is awaiting trial here in connection with the death by poisoning of her 12 year old foster son, Harry. Police are seeking to learn the cause of at least nine deaths in her household within a decade.

So far the following deaths have been revealed as having occurred in Mrs. Copple's immediate family or in her home:

A Coldwater states schoolboy being boarded at the Copple home; Mrs. Copple's nine day old baby, Rose; Pearly Klaus, her niece; "a little boy," unknown; also being boarded; a child known only as "Shaw"; a child of Traugott Hedrick; Mrs. Copple is said to have acted as housekeeper at the home of Otto Hedrick in Decker-ville.

Three children by her first husband, Newton Higgins, with whom she said she lived in St. Louis, Mich. Mrs. Copple has admitted the death of the first four, but denies all knowledge of any child named Shaw or any child of Traugott Hedrick. No child died at the Hedrick home while she was there, she said yesterday.

If there was any mystery in connection with these deaths, Mrs. Copple vigorously denies. Two of her three children by Higgins, she said in an interview yesterday, died at birth. Scarlet fever took the third, a boy, three years ago, she said.

Revelation of her previous marriage was the new development upon which police were working today.

With Jim Shannon, a boarder at the Copple home here, Mrs. Copple is held in connection with the death of her foster child. She repeated in her interview yesterday that Shannon gave the boy "white powders" to settle his stomach when the child became ill.

Car Builders Have Regular Meeting

The education department of the local branch of the American Car Builder's Association held its regular weekly meeting at the local Y. M. C. A. last night, and received instruction from Thomas Hodson, the foreman of the car department of the local L. & N. shops.

The plans and specifications of the government and other authorities as to the construction of freight cars are followed in the lessons given. A large company of the carmen of the shops were present at the meeting last night.

Second Message From Clara Sets Out
Her Defense in Murder Case More Fully

(Associated Press.)

New Orleans, May 29.—Clara Phillips arrived here at 1:15 o'clock today.

Tegucigalpa, May 29.—A second message from Clara Phillips, setting forth more fully her declaration of innocence and hope of clearing her name of the charge of murder in which she was convicted in California, has been received by the Associated Press. The message was sent from Puerto Cortez after the fugitive had boarded the steamship Copan, which is bearing her back to the United States in custody of Los Angeles deputy sheriffs.

The statement in part as follows:
"I am waiving extradition and going home to fight unjust charge.

LIONS CLUB WILL BE FORMED HERE

A new civic organization called the "Lion's Club" is soon to be formally organized in the Twin Cities. It was announced this morning by prospective members of the new club and by H. G. Hill, of Meridian, Miss., who is the accredited organizer for Lion clubs in this section.

Last night many interested in the proposed club enjoyed a banquet at the Lyons Hotel. Among the out of town guests present were H. G. Hill, Meridian, Miss.; C. C. Randle, Birmingham; Clarence Braden, Louisville, Ky.; J. W. Patton, Montgomery; E. R. Beckwith, Montgomery and T. M. Francis, Montgomery.

Addresses were made by the visitors, and among others the following local men spoke:

W. W. Callahan, A. T. Hanson, John A. Thompson and John McGehee.

In speaking of what the Lion Club stands for Mr. Hill said this morning:

"They are for loyalty to country, community and home; for individual integrity in thought, word and deed; and for the American flag and the English language; for new ideals, new hopes and new ambitions in business and profession, and for service that is founded on the golden rule."

OPENING ON FRIDAY

The opening of the Lyon's Hotel Cafe will occur Friday, June 1st, dinner being served from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. The management has very kindly offered to donate the entire proceeds to the Benevolent Society Hospital. The trustees of the hospital request the liberal patronage of the citizens of Albany-Decatur in order that a goodly sum will be realized for the benefit of the hospital.

Expect Big Crowd At Senior Class Play

The play to be staged by 22 boys and girls of the Albany high school Wednesday night at the Masonic Theatre has been termed "a college comedy," by Miss Gladys Bernardi, who has practiced the company of young people for their appearance. Miss Bernardi stated this morning that of the many plays she had put on, the one to be given Wednesday night at the Masonic suited her better than any of the others she had assisted in.

The name of the play is: "The Fifteenth of January," the secret date, it is stated, on which two young college students in the country have been married.

ALLAHABAD, India, May 29.—Advices to the newspaper Pioneer from Teheran states that 1,000 persons have been killed by an earthquake at Turbat-I-Haidari. The earth shook covered a period of several hours. Many villages are said to be devastated.

Turbat-I-Haidari is a small Persian town in a north eastern province which forms part of the great Iranian desert. The general elevation of the country is somewhat level, about 2,000 feet and is cut up into many fertile valleys which alternate with barren sand waves. The town is about 65 miles west of Meshed, the capital of Khurasan.

METHODIST WOMEN
ORGANIZE BRANCH

Representative Methodist women of the Decatur district formally organized the district into a branch of the North Alabama conference missionary society at the Central Methodist church yesterday, with the election of the following officers: President Mrs. R. A. Thompson; Vice-President Mrs. John L. Proctor; Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. Ross.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. C. Black, as temporary chairman, who introduced as the chief speaker of the occasion, Mrs. J. D. Elliott of Birmingham, Missionary Society.

Mrs. Elliott is the wife of J. D. Elliott, one of the state bank examiners. Mr. Elliott is in the Twin Cities today, looking after his official duties.

In her address Mrs. Elliott stressed the need of a fine "quality" in education and called attention to the work of the great "Scarlett Training School" of Southern Methodist. The visitor's subject was: "A Greater Scarlett." Attention was called to the fact that the school was founded as a memorial to the late Belle H. Bennett, the first President of the woman's missionary society of the M. E. church, South.

Refreshments were served to the guests following the business meeting by Mesdames Isaac Scheer and Melvin Hutson.

A RICH MAN DIES

IN FRANCE.

George Jay Gould, who died in France, was the eldest son of the late Jay Gould. One of six children, he succeeded to much of the power wielded by his father in financial and railroad circles. He was the center of many bitter battles for control and of stock exchange struggles in railroad securities.

He was born in 1864 and received his early training in a private banking house in the shadow of Wall Street. At 24 he was president of the Fort Smith & Little Rock Railway, president of the Manhattan Railway and first vice president of the Texas & Pacific Railway. Five years later he became president of the Missouri-Pacific, and in the decade ending in 1910 his was the dominating influence in the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, the Wabash and the International & Great Northern. He had large holdings of Western Union stock at one time and was a member of the board of directors.

He inherited a huge fortune from his father and was the trustee of it. He figured in numerous lawsuits brought by brothers and sisters, and he was accused of having used funds of the estate to increase his private fortune.

During the 20 years that he was the dominating figure in the so called "Gould lines," there was a continual warfare of the railroad interests feeding the Middle West and the Southwest, and it was a dull day in Wall Street when Gould had not scored a victory or suffered a defeat.

When he finally relinquished control, some of the properties that he had handled were little more than shells, their sustenance having been exhausted in the intricacies of stock manipulation.

George Gould was not a great railroad man, in the sense that he was a builder of properties, but he came into control during a period when the railroads were the toys of gamblers and financiers and he played the game according to his training.

He was married to Edith M. Kingdon in 1886. They had seven children, some of whom have figured in the news of the day at various times. Mrs. Gould died in 1921, and he was married a second time to an English actress, whose name had been mentioned in connection with his for several years before the death of his wife.

An event of international importance was the marriage of his sister, Anna, more than a score of years ago, to Count Boni de Castellane, a French dandy. This marriage resulted in nothing but trouble for the principals and for George Gould, who had charge of his sister's estate.

His divorce and subsequent marriage to Count Boni's relative, the Duke de Tallyrand, added another chapter to a family history that is replete with mismatings and court proceedings.

Another sister, Helen Miller Gould, won a warm place in the affections of the American people by her instantaneous charities and her display of common sense in regard to all things. Her marriage to Finley Johnson Shepard in 1913 was in strong contrast to that of the matrimonial ventures of her younger sister and left a distinctly favorable impression.—Nashville Tennessean.

AIRDOME TODAY

"One million in jewels" comes to the Airdome Theatre next Tuesday, May 29th and presents those great favorites, J. P. McGowan and Helen Holmes, in an intensely interesting story of the Customs Service. It deals with the most modern methods employed by gem smugglers and the equally advanced tactics of the government in preventing the entrance into this country of precious stones without payment of duty, the particular case in the story involving certain highly celebrated jewels.

The picture has a variety of locales. It opens in New York, where a few scenes take place, goes to Havana, where the action begins to become more exciting, changes to a steamer bound for Key West, and ends in Florida, where the climax occurs. The company visited the actual places in the story and, besides Mr. McGowan and Helen Holmes, included Elinor Fair, Nellie Parker-Spaulling, Fred Kalger, Chas. Craig, Leslie J. Casey and Gordon Standing.

Hartselle News

At a meeting of the city council held one night recently, the contract was awarded to J. M. Jackson for the resurfacing of the streets in the downtown section of the city. The work calls for some much needed repairs. Work will begin as soon as weather conditions will permit. The board also took some action in regard to sanitary fillets for the city, and before the summer is gone this much needed reform in sanitary measures will be really.

There are several cases of measles in town, and in some instances several cases in one family. The disease is of mild type.

Much loss has been occasioned to the berry growers here on account of the prevailing wet weather. Berries in large quantities are rotting in the fields as they cannot be picked and shipped on account of dampness.

The pastor, Rev. R. W. Anderson, of the First Methodist church, has designated the first Sunday in June as home coming day at his church. At this service it is hoped that the full membership of the church will be present, and a special effort will be made to have the largest attendance at Sunday school in the history of the church. The pastor has announced that the sacrament would be administered immediately following the session of the Sunday school. Special music is being prepared, and the day is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

Brown Orr and family who for some years have lived in the West, arrived in Hartselle a few days ago, and will make their future home here. Mr. Orr lately formed a connection with the Puckett and Orr drug store.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson regret very much that they will make their future home in Montgomery. Misses Elizabeth and Helen have already gone to Montgomery. Mrs. Jackson will follow in a few days.

Carl Pattillo has returned from Auburn where he attended school the present session.

Lovert Russell is home from Auburn during the vacation period.

The Hartselle concert band is rapidly developing under the efficient direction of Mr. Marston. Last Friday evening the Albany band met with the Hartselle boys, and a splendid time was the result. The week previous the Hartselle band met with the Albany boys. These exchange of visits are proving very helpful to each band. It is anticipated soon that the two bands will give a concert somewhere in the near future.

Paul Cain and Miss Esther Thompson, two popular young people of this section were married at the District Parsonage in Decatur by presiding elder, W. P. McGlawn, Sunday morning. Miss Thompson is the daughter of the late J. Davis Thompson, was a graduate of the M. C. H. S. and was justly popular with her large circle of friends. Mr. Cain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cain, and both are splendid young people. They left on the afternoon train for Montgomery and other points south on their honeymoon trip.

Monroe T. Swift of Scottsboro, is spending some time with relatives and friends in the county.

Professor J. H. Riddle, who for the past several years has been principal of the M. C. H. S. was again elected to this position. With the exception of one teacher, all his assistants have been elected.

CHARLES CHAPLIN WILL BE SEEN IN "PAY DAY"

Princess today.
 Charles Chaplin's latest comedy release, "Pay Day," which is being distributed as a First National attraction, opens a run at the Princess Theatre today. Advance notices tend to the belief that this vehicle will rank among the best productions the star comedian has ever offered.

Edna Purviance, the star's brother Sydney, who not so long ago blossomed out as a star himself; Mack Swain, who was with Chaplin in "The Idle Class;" Phyllis Allen, Henry Bergman, Loyd Underwood, John Rand and Allen Garcia aid the star's efforts.

Chaplin has transported himself to an atmosphere of toil and thorn-handled laborers for novelty situations.

"KEEP TRACK CLEAR FOR FORD" - JULIAN

"To allow any further encroachments on the Muscle Shoals property by any private or corporate interests," said Frank N. Julian, who was here this morning on his way from Montgomery to his home in Sheffield.
"would mean continued delay and continuity as to the Ford bill to take over the Shoals project when Congress re-assembles this winter. What we should do by all means is to 'wait for Henry' and keep the tracks clear for him."

"I am convinced that if a vote could be had the solons who will make the Senate and the House this winter could be had now, there is no kind of doubt but what Ford would win for the Shoals hands down. And I think sentiment will grow stronger and stronger for him until the vote is actually taken," continued Mr. Julian.
Mr. Julian was accompanied by Judge Leon McCord, both men being on their way to the Tri Cities where tonight Judge McCord is to deliver an address at the State Normal School at Florence.

MOULTON NEWS

Moulton, Ala., May 28.—Special.
The closing exercises of the Lawrence county high school came to an end Saturday evening with the Alumni meet at the high school auditorium but so far as the general public was concerned the "close" was made when Dr. Paul V. Bonar, of Judson delivered an inspiring address to the graduating class Thursday evening, to the class to twenty-eight students. The exercises for the entire week including a play Friday evening given by the public school have been pronounced by those attending as having been exceeded but few times if ever in the history of the school; the attendance by friends and patrons of the school has been unusually good. On Wednesday evening the proceeds of the annual high school play totaled above $110 while the proceeds of the public school play Friday evening went above $85. Principal J. B. Gibbons of the high school announced Thursday evening at graduating exercises that he expects to take the work at another county high school next session and that a new principal must be found for Lawrence county. Mr. Gibbons has rendered excellent services to the school since he came here.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Lawrence county Board of Education was held in the office of the county superintendent of education on Friday. The session was an unusually busy one. Among the many matters that received attention was the appointment or re-appointment of trustees for the seventy odd districts in the county, passing on matters of building, the decision to employ an elementary supervisor of schools for the next session as for the past three years, and the re-adoption of the salary schedule used for the session just ended.

Mr. I. P. Thornton, of Rogersville, just out from Auburn, was appointed successor to Glenn E. Riddell for the Vocational Agriculture work at Town Creek. Mr. Riddell is resigning to take up work with the Extension Department of Auburn.

A surprise in the way of a business deal came to Moulton last week when F. O. Smith bought out The Moulton drug company for so many years run by Dr. A. S. Byars. Mr. Smith took charge at once and Dr. Byars has not yet made public just what line of business will engage his attention other than that his large farm interests.

W. T. Tenant, representative of the Delco Light Tuscumbia, headquarters at Tuscumbia, spent a portion of the past week in Moulton and surrounding territory.
